TRACED TO BALTIMORE AND ARRESTED IDENTIFED BY TWO OF HIS COMRADES, HE CON-

Joseph Ryper, a young Bohemian cigarmaker, was murdered with a bilitard cue by some unknown member of the Kup's Bay Coterie, on last Monday night, in the liquor store at No. 319 East Thirty-nauth-st. The police made a number of arrest, but were mable to establish the identity of the murderer. On the morning after the marder Inspector Byrnes detailed Detective Sergeants Hickey and Slevin to the case. They learned that on the night in question Daniel F. Gearon, the president of the Coter'e, had been put out of the liquor store by George V. Weteran, the bar-keeper, for disorderly conduct. He went off and returned with several members of the gang. They ordered drinks, and being refused, were instructed by Gearon to "clean out the place." The bar-keeper called out to young Ryner, who was standing near the bar, to go for a policeman. Ryner went to the door, but returned and said fee could not find one. At this juncture, one of the gang cried out "That's the ———— that went for a copper," and one of them rushed up with a billiard cue and struck Ryner over the head, felling him to the floor. After striking him several more blows, the murderer then fied.

The detectives discovered that the man who struck the fatal blows was Daniel Donavan, one of the worst of the coterie. They traced him to Kingsbridge, where, in the house of a friend, he had changed his clothes. He afterwards returned to East Thirty-ninth-st., and, borrowing some more, started for Philadelphia or Baltimore. Detective Slevin went to Philadelphia and Donevan had a friend named McDonald, who was a contractor on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and accompanied by Baltimore detectives Hickey drove to McDonald's place, about twenty miles south of Baltimore, and recognizing Donovan arrested him, He was passing under the name of James McCarthy, but admitted his ideutity. Hickey returned with his prisoner to this city on Saturday night.

Inspector Byrnes yesterday had Donovan confronted by Weteran, the barkeeper, and by Henry Leavins, one of the men arrested on PESSES THE CRIME.

MEETINGS OF WORKINGMEN. THE HOD HOISTING ENGINEERS' CHARGE AGAINST JUSTICE POWER.

THE HOD HOISTING ENGINEERS' CHARGE AGAINST JUSTICE POWER.

John J. Maguire, of the Unity Labor Club, presided at the meeting of the Central Labor Union yesterday at Odd Fellews' Hall. Delegates from Varnishers' Union, No. 18, and the Hod Hoisting Engineers' Union were admitted. The delegate of the Hod Hoisting Engineers reported that on December 6, John Cavanagh, then walking delegate, swore out a summons against Edelmeyer & Morgan for violation of the act of April, 1862, governing steam boilers and engineers. The summons was made returnable on December 10, before Police Justice Power. The latter, however, said that he had no jurisdiction, and Cavanagh was referred to the Police Commissioners. From them he was sent to the Mayor, and thence to the District-Attorney, who gave him a letter to Justice Power stating that he had jurisdiction. Justice Power was a brother of a plasterer who had made a bitter fight against the union, and he thought that this had something to do with his action. He wished to ascertain if a Police Justice had the power to ignore a sworn affidavit charging a misdemeanor. A committee was appointed to investigate the subject. An appeal for the striking glass-blowers was referred to the various unions for action. A delegate reported that Professor Felix Adler had offered to give six free concerts for the benefit of the Central Labor Union under the auspices of the Philharmonic Society, with Theodore Thomas as leader. A committee was appointed to confer with Professor Adler.

A meeting of tugboatmen was held yesterday afternoon in South Brooklyn, to consider the subject of the abandonment of the Marine Hospital dues. It was the sense of the meeting that the hospital was of benefit chiefly to 'be 'bummers' of the business, who pretended sickness. Definite action was postponed.

THE PET STOCK EXHIBITION.

THE PET STOCK EXHIBITION.

The entries for the exhibition of pet stock, opening the last of this week in Mail son Square Garden, at noon on Saturday were of over 6,000 specimens. In the poultry classes the largest entry is in the Asiatic, American and Game varieties, and in either exceed the total entry of any exhibition held this season. The Langshan is the novelty in the Asiatic class, and of this the entry is large, and in good part from Maine. The Wyandoute will lead in the American class, although Massachusetts sends a monster collection of Plymouth Rocks. In the Games the classes are for birds bred for feather and for the pit. In the latter, birds will be showed cut and heeled ready for battle.

In the pigeon department the entry was of over 1,000 birds. Four hundred of these were entered by two gentlemen, Bunting Hankins showing 76 fantals, 132 owls and 52 Turkish frilled birds and parlor tumblers. His exhibit is to oe in 103 cares occupying 130 lineal feet. The other is owned by D. E. Newell, and made up of barbs, carriers and white trampeters, valued at $5,000. In the homing classes the entry was for color, record and as message carriers. In the former the largest entry was by F. Whiteley, Newark, who showed the fixteen flown by him in the Arthur Chambers race of November 28, these birds having previously flown 336 and 464 miles journeys. Other records are for 334 miles—A. C. Butts, Newark, and J. R. Husson, of this city. As message birds, D. E. Newell enters the flight that have been used for many years past between the business at West Nineteenthest, and the homestead at Yonkers.

The show will not be open on Sanday. Exhibitors have made it a condition of entry that the birds shall rest on that day, and Manager Blackford of the fish department promised to remove his exhibit if the doors of the garden were not kept closed.

SHOOTING AT A DOCTOR.

Dr. Michael Ferrie, of No. 217 East Forty-fifthst. was reading in his office on Saturday afternoon, when he was suddenly startled by the repor of a pistol, the crashing of glass, and the whizz of a bullet across the office. Prolaz Floranz, age twenty-four, a wall-paper printer of No. 342 East Forty-four, a wall-paper printer of No. 342 East Forty-fixth-st., was arraigned in the Yo kville Police Court yesterday, and in default of $2,000 bail was locked up. He says that about two years ago he was taken ill with heart trouble and summoned Dr. Ferrie. His child was also taken sick and, as he says, the doctor told the mother to bring the little one to his office. On account of a confession made to him by his wife, he brought a suit in the City Court for $2,000, and obtained a verdict of $500. On November 14 the doctor, he said, had appealed the case. When Floranz was taken to the police station, a revolver with only one empty barrel was found in his pocket. SHOOTING AT A DOCTOR. found in his pocket.

THE TWO STEAMSHIPS FLOATED. The steamship City of Chicago, which grounded at the head of the Swash Channel, and the Devonis which went ashore at the east end of the Middle Ground, floated about 1 a. in, yesterday. The Devonia went to sea at once. The City of Chicago did not sail until after sundown last night. The City of Chicago had or board all of those who had engaged passage to sail on Thursday last on the White Star steamship Germanic, which is now on the way back to Liverpool with a broken shaft. The Devonia and City of Chicago grounded in the thick snow-storm. The cause of their taking the bottom, whether by fault of the pilots or not, will be investigated by the Pilot Commissioners tomorrow.

MEETINGS OF TEMPERANCE PEOPLE.

A LETTER FROM JOHN KELLY ON THE GROG-SHOPS.

MEETINGS OF TEMPERANCE PEOPLE.

A LETTER FROM JORN KELLY ON THE GROG-SHOPS.

The meeting of the Mawhattan Temperance Association in Cooper Union Hall yesterday was largely attended. The speakers were Professor John M. Laffin, who spoke of the evils of eigarette-smoking by children, and the Rev. George J. Mingins, of Union Tabernacle. Mr. Mingins asserted that $600,000,000 a vear is spent for liquor in this country, and $80.000,000 in New-York City. Proprietors of low grog-shops had told him that from $400 to $700 was taken in for liquor in a single Saturday night. Besides this, he said, $250,000,000 is spent annually in law-suits arising from the use of liquor. The chairman read a letter from John Kelly, expressing his sympathy with the work. Speaking of the low liquor-shops of the city, he wrote:

I have been informed on good authority that there are many persons induced to enter these places, who have been subsequently drugged, robbed, and thrown into the street, then arrested by a policeman, taken before a police magistrate, and fined for being found intoxicated.

The Rev. George H. Corey was the principal speaker at the meeting of the American Temperance Union at Chickering Hall. Among other things he said that the appetite for stimulants was found among all nations. With some nations this appetite was satisfied by opium, others by alchoic liquors. Mr. Corey states that notwithstanding the fact that the sale of intoxicating beverages was latter to day than ever before, yet there were many signs of encouragement for temperance people. In the first place science was on the side of total abstinence. In a pastorate of nine years in New York city he had never seen a case of abject poverty of which drunkenness was not the cause. Thirteen States already have prohibition, A hearty laugh followed the speaker's incidental attack on his archemenies, corsets and over-eating. Among other things he said:

"I don't believe in prohibition. I think that where prohibition has saved one man name from intemperance, chousands h

THE BROOKLYN POISONING CASE.

The poisoning of the family of George Graham at No. 246 York-st., Brooklyn, Coronor Menninger decided yesterday was caused by arsenic used by mistake in making wheat cakes. The cakes were made for breakfast on Friday by the eldest daughter, Delia, age eighteen, who took some prepared flour, and put in it what she supposed was baking powder. She did not herself eat of the cakes, and her father went to his work before the breakfast was ready. Those who did eat the cakes were Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Finley, her mother and her three children, and all were taken ill soon after. Mrs. Graham died on Saturday. The grayish powder in the tin can, out of which the girl took what she put in the cakes, was found to be nearly pure arsenic. There is no suspicion of any criminal intent in its use, but it appeared to be a case of criminal carelessness. It could not be found how the arsenic came to be where it was unlabelled, but it is supposed that Mrs. Graham, who paid for her carelessness with her life, bought it to kill rats, and thought it would be more secure in the tin can than in the labelled package in which it was put up. The coroner summoned a jury of six physicians and four druggists, and after they had seen the body adjourned the inquest until the analysis of the contents of the woman's stomach can be completed. Mrs. Finley and one of the children, Willie, age seven, are still in a critical condition. THE BROOKLYN POISONING CASE,

IN THE REV. FLORENCE MCCARTHY'S PLACE.

The Rev. Florence McCarthy did not appear in St. Cecinia's Church, Williamsburg, yesterday, his place being taken by the Rev. Father Taafle, chorate of St. Patrick's Church. Father McCarthy's escapade of Thursday is attributed to chagrin at the verdict against him in the Cronin suit, which, it is believed, led him to drinking. Father Taafle refused to say anything for publication. No reference to Father McCarthy was made in the sermon, unless it might be found in a general exhortation to the congregation to subdue their passions. The affair of Thursday has produced a revulsion of feeling in the minds of many who believed that the suit of Miss Cronin was present at the pali-past 16 o'clock mass.

A MISTAKE IN THE TITLE OF A SERMON.
The Rev. John M. Worrall, pastor of the Thirteenth-st. Presbyterian Church, after announcing his text last evening, said: "Lest your attention should be distracted from the sermon, I will say that by a singular mistake it was announced in the public prints that I would preach on the subject of Modern Rogues.' My subject is 'Modern Progress,' though I could surely find a fertile field in considering the other."

AN UNSUCCESSFUL WALL STREFT ENTERPRISE. Four lads, ages from nine to twelve, were playing with sleds in front of the Custom House yesterday afternoon when one challenged the others to go up and slide down the steps. The banter was acceped, and in less than two minutes there were two broken sleds in the gutter and four very much shaken up young speculators. One lad, giving his name as Willie Nelan, living in Pine-st., had his arm dislocated at the elbow and was taken to a surgeon.

A GENTLE SNOW AND THEN A CLEAR SKY.
When the church bells rang out the call to worship yesterday morning the air was filled with light, fleecy takes of snow, and a thin mantle of white covered roof and pavement. The storm, however, was of such a mild and kindly character that few people were prevented from listening to their favorite preacher. The snow continued to fall until after sunset, when the clouds began to disperse, and two hours later the stars were shining brightly m every part of the sky. The keen, bracing air painted roses upon the cheeks of church-goers and sinners alike. Although not more than an inch of snow fell during the day, street cars on several lines were drawn by double teams of horses.
